

Required - On your wedding day you must bring your marriage license and ID's to your officiant. For anyone to marry you, you must have a FL Marriage License. You are responsible for obtaining your Florida marriage license.

To obtain your Florida marriage license, both you and your fiancé must go to any FL Clerk of Court's office, together, with ID. The Clerk of Court currently charges $93.50 for the marriage license. This fee is reduced to $61.00 for Florida Residents who have completed a premarital preparation course (as provided in Florida Statute 741.0305(5) - which the Clerk has the course in their office).

FL residents (only) have a three (3) day waiting period after they obtain their license. The date you may marry on or after is clearly written on your marriage license; check the date! Your license is good for 60 days from date of purchase. You may use your FL marriage license to marry anywhere in Florida, regardless of which FL county you received it from. No blood test is necessary.

solemnizing a Florida Marriage as well as the travel fees, preparation of your packet with formal transcript of the oath or ceremony, certificate of marriage, and includes the required admin/org costs.

Dependability - Early arrival to ensure all is ready, assist with any last minute arrangements or modifications and choreograph the bridal party if necessary. Meet with the Bride and Groom before the ceremony to verify their ID matches the marriage license and that the marriage license is legally valid for the wedding.

Low Cost - Your ceremony is the heart and main event of the day you marry, and it is the only required piece of your wedding day; yet it typically costs far less than most wedding essentials. You will find my Officiant service has a solid reputation for giving top quality for low cost. ABOUT JOJO is moderately priced and competitive with other professional wedding ministers and notary officiants.

Experienced Officiant - Since 2016 I have been invited to officiate weddings. I spend hours writing and editing ceremonies, e-mailing correspondence, on phone calls and answering questions before your wedding day. My business is well handled: the notary license, requirements in my profession. I am professional and efficient. Compared to others in my profession, I'm able to offer lower prices for a high quality romantic ceremony presented with ease and skill because of my expertise, use of technology and effective organizational skills. Any ceremony or materials prepared by Officiant are property of Officiant and may be altered for future use.

Rehearsal - To get married in Florida, a rehearsal is not required, which is why this is an optional. Additional fee for Officiant to direct and choreograph your rehearsal on a separate date. Rehearsals typically take an hour with at least two run-throughs and answer all questions. No Rehearsal fee required, unless outside of the Polk County area. Price varies with location due to additional time and mileage. (Only if you want Officiant to conduct the choreograph rehearsal.)

LATE FEE - If your ceremony starts 30 minutes after the planned start time, then an additional $50.00 each 30 minutes late shall be paid to the Officiant. Payment is completed before the ceremony is performed. In the unlikely event the excessive delay prohibits the Officiant from remaining, then the bridal couple is responsible for the full fees agreed upon prior to the ceremony.

CANCELLATION FEE - When you are on my calendar I must block travel time to and from, with early arrival, as well as the time to perform the marriage ceremony. Hours are spent in Contract is "rain or shine"; with the exception of force majeure weather conditions. If thunder is heard then lightning is present within the proximity; for her safety and yours the Officiant has the right to stop, stall or delay an outdoor ceremony until hazardous conditions have improved. It is your responsibility to establish where your ceremony will take place and make any necessary arrangements if required by the venue. If the wedding must be rescheduled due to force majeure and the Officiant is available on the date it is reset, when the non-refundable retainer fee has already been paid an additional retainer fee will not be required.
